

Our History: In 2001, an enthusiastic group of women including Pat Brazil, June Kester, Carol Klausen, Shirley Wheeler, LadyBug Dougherty, Terry Woods and Nadette Ott looked for a way to enhance fundraising and make it more efficient for the State and its County Units. They applied for nonprofit status as a 501(c)3 corporation for the Heritage Foundation.

The Foundation was created to receive charitable donations and grants to advance leadership, beef education, and promotion of agriculture through education and science.

What We Do: We are an enthusiastic group of women in agriculture. We nurture our families, our communities, and our land. We help in classrooms, host farm and ranch trips, and donate supplies for both children and the general public. As a result, fundraising gets little time or energy. We would rather spend our time encouraging understanding of the need for open space, water quality management, proper grazing and conservation. California CattleWomen are advocates for the beef community, and are recognized leaders country-wide for innovative educational programs and materials. In addition, CCW members serve on Farm Service Agencies, Water Quality Boards, Conservation District

Boards, Natural Resources Boards and more.

How Funds Are Disbursed: Funds are disbursed according to the specific request of the donor, or, if disbursed from the General Fund, will be awarded according to the merits of the proposal or specific need.

Scholarships: Providing funds for advanced education through scholarships is one of our most important goals. Educating our youth to be the future of American agriculture in all its aspects will ensure a safe and healthy beef herd in the future.

Special Projects: Periodically exciting new projects are presented that enhance our beef education and promotion, such as engaging social media platforms to reach more consumers and kids. We also have special opportunities to hear unique speakers like Dr. Temple Grandin and others who grow our leadership abilities. With funds available, we can take advantage of those resources.
